The Salon Academy

- In the fall, I plan on attending The Salon Academy to study Hair Design. I'm very excited to go to school for something I've been dreaming of for a while now. I realized when I was applying for other schools, I wasn't very excited but when I visited The Salon Academy, it felt right. I loved the community of people that were there and felt like they really care about their students and want the best for them. I know it's going to be hard to be working and going to school but I'm ready for the challenge. My parents are supporting me in going to The Salon Academy and walking with me in the process. I appreciate them teaching me how to work hard and showing me how to push through hard times. They are wanting me to pay for school myself. This scholarship will help me focus on school rather than worry about how I'm going to pay for it. I got a fulltime job for this upcoming summer until I start school in August, after I turn 18. I want to eventually have my own salon/ batuque so my clients can come and get their hair done but also shop for country and western fashion. I want my clientele to have the most relaxing experience and enjoy visiting.
- Looking back, I don't have many regrets but I wish I would not have been so scared my freshman year and just was myself. I Also wish we would've been able to be in school the whole time. That Covid didn't ever happen. Advice I would give an incoming athlete would be to work as hard as you can in everything you do and always strive to get better. Always be respectful to the coach's referees, and any adult even when it's hard when they could be in the wrong, always be the bigger person. Always be yourself and be nice to the younger classmen when you're an upperclassman they look up to you. Show them how an athlete should act at practice and games. Always have discipline to push through, it will have its ups and downs but one day you will have to take off your court shoes or cleats off for the last time and you don't get a second chance. Go to everything practice, games, workouts and even other programs games, Support each other. If you are not the best or just learning a sport, it tells you to make it, be coachable and listen to advice. Don't be afraid to be yourself, try your best, make memories, and have fun. That's all that matters.
